AMERICAN FORK, Utah, Sept. 7 .-The trustees of the American Fork dis-The trustees of the American Fork district schools fear that they will be compelled to seek more room for the pupils, on account of the large enrollment. It will be remembered that last year the district spent over $20,000 in the erection of a large modern school building, which was thought would furnish ample room for some years to come, but which has proven inadequate. The trustees are also considering the engagement of another teacher. During the enrollment yesterday, many students of a different district, who were anxious to secure admittance, were turned away on account of lack of school room.

Hot Debate Promised in Convention Over the Platform.

BUTTE, Mont., Sept. 7.—The Republi-can State convention at Billings today got under headway at about noon, organizing by electing George W. Irwin of Butte temporary chairman. Upon the report of the committee on manent chaliman, with Irwin as permanent secretary. No contests developed. The forces led by former United States Senator Thomas H. Carter are in control of the convention and the nomination of William Lindsay of Dawson for Governor, and Joseph H. Dixon of Missoula for Congressman, seems assured. Leaders of the anti-trust Heinze movement are present and are urging the nomination of Mr. Lindsay, who they assert, will be given the support of the fusion parties.

The delay in the report of the platform and resolution committee was caused by a difference of opinion upon a number of resolutions that were presented as a result of the caucus of the Silver Bow delegation. That caucus decided in favor of initiative and referendum, the institution of a State Railroad commission, a proposed amendment to the fellow servant law and a resolution upon the Colorado labor situation.

In the Silver Bow caucus a resolution of censure of the Governor of Colorado was toned down so that the situation was deplored without blaming anybody especially for it.

William Scallon, formerly president of the Amalgamated Copper company, was the Representative of Silver Bow county upon the platform and resolutions committee. He submitted the report of his county caucus in favor of initiative and referendum, the Railroad commission law and the fellow servant amendment.

Col. W. F. Sanders, who was chalrman of the platform and resolutions committee, strongly opposed all the abovenamed resolutions, but finally assented to them. Their adoption will probably be the subject of a hot debate on the convention floor. The convention, after holding a Roosevelt jolification meeting, adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

WATER IN ONTARIO MINE REDUCED FIFTEEN FEET

Special to The Tribune.

PARK CITY, Utah, Sept. 7 .- At the Ontario mine the work of pumping out he water is continuing with very satisfactory results. Of a necessity, this work proceeds slowly; but those interested are confident that at the present rate it cannot be very many days before the mine will be in a condition to retume work at its former capacity. The water has been reduced fifteen feet in the past few days, so that now it stands only twenty-five feet above the 1700 level. As soon as this is reached and the pump put to working, the usual force of men will be put into the mine.

At the J. I. C. things are looking unusually bright. For several weeks the tanks have been working steadily here, with the result that all of the drifts have been emptied and that the water has been lowered in the shaft to such a depth that it will be possible to put the pumps to work tomorrow or the next day. When once these are at work, sinking will begin and all the activity of a wide-awake prospect resumed.

At noon today Miss Jean Pearson and Mr. H. Ben Hampton were married at the Congregational church, the Rev. D. Q. Grabill officieting. The young people are both well and popularly known here in the camp and the church was crowded with their many friends.
